Our principles

Customer focus
We want to be the partner our customers choose, thanks to premium quality and ease of working together.

Leadership
We hold each other accountable. Leadership means nurturing a culture in which safety and quality are never compromised.

People
Our people are the force that drives our success. We value them through involvement, participation, consultation and skills development, and we provide resources, training and support.

Integrated approach
Quality, safety and environment (QSE) are fully integrated into our business processes.

Risks and opportunities
We manage them systematically. We proactively identify and reduce risks in all activities and at all levels of the organisation, and we promote risk-based thinking.

Performance management
We measure and review QHSE performance starting from customer feedback, and we ensure compliance with legal requirements and other obligations. We decide on facts, using the right tools.

Partners and suppliers
We build strategic partnerships to evolve the operating ecosystem, and we involve partners along the whole supply chain. On safety, quality, health and environment we expect from all of them the same performance we demand of ourselves.

Continuous improvement
We aim for excellence in the solutions and services we offer. We share lessons learned to increase impact and experience and to keep improving performance.
